The earth for 100 miles around is shaken periodically with subterranean vibration. Great alarm exists among the dwellers in the cities of Cordova, Orizaba, Kalaha, and the dozens of small villages scattered within the scope of the strange and interesting phenomenon. The shocks as yet have not been of a disastrous nature and no damage from them has been reported. For the public safety the council of Vera Cruz will shortly name a commission of scientists to make all the investigation into the eruption possible and to make recommendations looking to the protection of the inhabitants of the neighboring villages. The present eruption is in the heart of the best improved coffee district in Mexico, where are located many Americans who have embarked in the profitable business. The coffee plantations are not as yet thought to be in any danger of damage; nor will they be unless the fall of thick ashes occurs, which is not considered probable.

FIND THE SAFE SHUT.

Lack of Time Prevents Robbers Using Dynamite.

Stockton, Cal., March 11.—By midnight plans were made for the pursuit of the four bandits who vainly endeavored to hold up the eastbound overland, known as the European mail, at 10:20 o'clock last night. A posse was gathered and the veteran sheriff of the county, who was absent at the state capital, was brought with an additional force of officers in a special engine. With the aid of two bloodhounds belonging to the sheriff the officers were confident of soon striking the trail of the robbers. The scene of the attempted robbery is level and it is probable the bandits escaped by a good road, especially as they had a horse and buggy. When the train was topped and the engineer and fireman forced to go to the express car the bandits fired repeatedly toward the passenger coaches as a warning to inquisitive travelers. A tramp who was stealing a ride on the blind baggage is the only person who can give an accurate description of the robbers. He stated at Lodi that when the train stopped he saw one of the robbers unmasked. The robber spoke to the tramp and told him that if he opened his head he would lose it. The tramp wisely kept still, but he noted the robber who had issued the warning was about five feet ten inches in height and that he wore a black coat, woolen shirt and blue necktie. The tramp was made to walk to the express car with the engineer and fireman. He heard one of the robbers say that they had a buggy in which they could ride, after leaving the engine. It was explained that the reason the robbers made no attempt to open the safe was the short time at their disposal. The Oregon express was only one hour behind, and they had to finish the job before that train approached or run great risk of being captured. The story of the hold-up, as told by Engineer Ingles of the main train, is as follows: "A short distance south of Castle switch myself and Fireman House were startled by a man who crawled over the tender and, pointing a pistol at our heads, ordered us to stop the train. He was masked. I stopped the engine and the fellow ordered us to get off, which we did. The other masked men were standing on the ground ready to receive us. They ordered us to walk back to the express car, the men telling me to instruct the messenger to open the door, as they had dynamite and would blow up the car if the door was not opened. I told the messenger that he opened the door and then shut it again, after which he fired two shots at the robbers. A passenger put his head out of one of the windows and one of the robbers fired a shot at him. The men again threatened to blow the car to pieces with dynamite if it was not opened, and the express messenger then complied with their demands. The men got inside, taking us with them, and ransacking the car. All the money was in the big safe and they did not try to open it. They got nothing whatever. After satisfying themselves that there was nothing of value outside of the safe, and that it had been securely locked, they jumped out of the car and went ahead to the engine again, taking us with them. Reaching the engine, the men uncoupled it from the train and, firing some shots at the passenger cars to scare the passengers, I suppose, pulled the throttle and started toward Lodi. A brakeman was sent back to Stockton to flag the Oregon express, which was soon to come along."

The spotters commenced work yesterday on the Florida, Central & Peninsular, and it is said will cover the whole south. The discharged conductors say the action of the roads is simply to get rid of high-priced men to replace them with cheaper men, economy being necessary on account of the dull freight business incident to the freeze.

Whatever sentence may be imposed on the queen as a result of her trial by court-martial is liable to modification, even to the extent of a pardon. Thus far there has been no concerted movement among the natives or white population looking to an appeal to the government for clemency, and the entire matter is in the hands of President Dole and his advisers.

GATARINO GARZA SLAIN.

Colon, Colombia, March 11.—Gatarino Garza, the notorious Mexican bandit and pretended revolutionary leader, was killed in an attack upon Bocas del Toro. ## Try to Burn a Four-Story Flat.

Two well dressed strangers were seen loitering in the country near there and are supposed to have been implicated.

MAKES THE BILL VOID.

Indiana Local Option Law Does Not Reach the Governor.

Indianapolis, Ind., March 11.—Another sensation came out of the Indiana legislature yesterday when it was found that the Nicholson local option bill, the measure that has been so bitterly fought pro and con for weeks, did not reach the governor Saturday night and that the constitutional provision which says no bill shall be presented to the governor for his signature within two days of the close of the session will now render the act void. Since Saturday morning the governor has received nearly 500 telegrams asking if he would sign the bill. He refused to say what he would do. While the constitution declares no bill shall be presented to him within forty-eight hours of the close of the session, he says he perhaps might waive the constitutional claim and receive the bill within the prescribed time. Ex-Supreme Judge Elliott says the governor is not required to keep open his office for late bills and that the legislature is wholly to blame in the matter. The appropriation bill is in the same boat with the Nicholson bill, but it is not expected that any one will question its legality.

WILL DEMAND EXPULSION.

Hot Time Expected in the Meeting of Coal Operators To-day.

Pittsburg, Pa., March 11.—An interesting time is promised at the meeting of the Pittsburg railroad coal operators to-day. Henry Florsheim says he will demand the expulsion of members who played false on the association by conceding demands of miners for the 6-cent rate. He will move to expel the Pittsburg and Belle Vernon Coal company, Pittsburg Fuel company, Royle Bros. Coal company and other operators. The conference committee was instructed to say that only 55 cents would be paid and that the differential between the Pittsburg and Hocking Valley must be abolished when the lake season schedule is made. The association says the payment of the advance by a few will not change its position.

Forged paper is coming to light every hour, and it is safe to estimate that $10,000 will not cover Blosser's transactions. It is now believed he had an accomplice. In looking over Blosser's books it appears that he is a poor penman. Several implement firms are filing attachments against his property in Cromwell.

I also inquired if there had been any trouble during the fighting. They were very thankful for our care of them and promised to reassure the foreigners. The consuls and the commanders of the warships requested us to telegraph to their ministers and admirals that all the foreigners were quite safe, which we promised to do. The foreigners appear to be kindly disposed toward our army. We have strictly forbidden any Chinese from entering their settlement, which is guarded by 600 Japanese. Upon attacking old Niu Chwang we found there a foreign missionary, who was immediately taken under our protection."

EUSTIS OFFERS PROTEST.

Wants France to Remove the Prohibition Against Cattle.

London, March 10.—A dispatch to the Times from Paris says that Wednesday United States Ambassador Eustis handed to M. Hanotaux, minister of foreign affairs, an official protest against the action of France in excluding American cattle. The protest affirmed that not a single case of disease had been noted either when cattle had been embarked or when they had been landed in France. The American government thinks the prohibition is a purely protectionist movement and that the question of disease is a mere pretext, and probably protests, not because it disputes the right of France to adopt whatever decision she chooses, but because the pretext constitutes a grave injury to American interests by inducing their exclusion from other markets. It is expected that America will retaliate.

OKLAHOMA WANTS FIGHT.

Kremila Club Offers $35,000 for the Corbett-Fitzsimmons Affair.

This is an increase of $10,000 over the Perry bid. ## UP FOR FINAL ACTION.

Bills That will Be Considered by the State Legislature.

Prominent are Senator Humphrey's race track bill, which allows pool selling races to be carried on for a period of ninety days during the year, and Senator Crawford's street railway bill. The opposition to Senator Humphrey's bill is strong and it is doubtful if it will be passed. Senator Coon's woman suffrage bill, giving women the right to vote in certain township elections, will be a special order this week. Senator Wall's bill fixing the fees and salaries of members of the general assembly has been made a special order for Wednesday on its second reading. ## ALL PAPERS CLAIM TO OWN THAT TRAIN

TRIBUNE AND TIMES HERALD BOTH WANT GLORY.

But Admit That Harry Ebbetts of Janesville, Made Very Fast Time From Chicago to Harvard, And That The St. Paul Special Made Them Hustle.

That Chicago & Northwestern flyer that came into Janesville at the rate of forty miles an hour yesterday morning was the individual property of the Chicago Tribune.

That's the Tribune's story. The Times-Herald always charters a special train like the one that they caused to roll into Janesville yesterday morning.

That's the Times-Herald's story. The Inter Ocean makes no claims. But on one thing both the Tribune and Times-Herald agree. That was that Engineer Harry Ebbetts of Janesville, pulled the train to Harvard in remarkably short time. They also admit that a rival train on the St. Paul made them hustle. The Tribune says:

"The fast mail train now known as the Chicago and Elroy postoffice, and operated over the Northwestern road, made its initial run successfully this morning. Week days it is scheduled to leave Chicago at 3 a. m. and is numbered 503, but Sundays it leaves the Wells Street Station an hour later to accommodate the newspaper publishers and is numbered 509. A feature of the run this morning was a race with a train on the Milwaukee system that ran as a rival to Janesville.

Made Up Much Time.

"The train was twenty minutes late getting away from the depot. It consisted of a postal, baggage, and two coaches. Harry Ebbetts, on engine No. 641, pulled the Elroy out toward the northwest and immediately began wiping out the lost time. When Edison Park was reached eight minutes had been made up, and Desplaines was passed eleven minutes later, but the train stopped at Harvard five minutes ahead of the schedule.

"Engineer Henry Miller on engine 632 and Conductor J. W. Hazen took charge here, and 509 was hustled into Janesville about seven minutes ahead of time. At Janesville the papers for Fort Atkinson, Jefferson and Watertown were unloaded, and, notwithstanding several hot boxes, the capital of Wisconsin was reached at 8:50 on the dot. Here an immense cargo of papers were put off and connecting with the train that had left Milwaukee at 4:50 and running across to Madison. No. 509 took its gait leisurely to Elroy, changing engines at Baraboo, where W. H. Clark, with 599, took hold. The new train had no trouble in reaching its destination on time at 11:35.

St. Paul Made Fast Time.

"Each engineer and conductor had a special letter from headquarters warning them to look out for a rival train that was to run over the Milwaukee road to Janesville to reach that town ahead of the new fast mail. In consequence everybody was on the watch and the train kept going. It was not a groundless rumor.

"At 4 o'clock there glided out of the Union Station one of the best engines on the Milwaukee system. At the throttle was Engineer Gosselin and conductor Coslon kept tab on what was intended for a fast run. It was the Milwaukee rival train. Heretofore the territory now covered by the Elroy fast mail was handled in the sale of Sunday newspapers by Biley D. Cronk. Cronk had been operating on a freight train on the Milwaukee road, and the new arrangement threatened to knock him out. He appealed to Vice President Ripley, of the Milwaukee who ordered on a special train for Cronk with instructions to make the equipment the best in the shop, and to make Janesville ahead of the Elroy at all hazards.

"Gosselin had only two light cars to haul, but he had twenty one miles further to run. Cronk had wired several of his dealers to go into Chicago at his expense and take a fast ride with him from Beloit, where the roads come together. There was a deep suspense until Janesville was reached, when it was found that the rival train had puffed in fourteen minutes after the Northwestern train had arrived."

Excursion To Milwaukee. The Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Railway will sell excursion tickets to Milwaukee and return on March 9 good for return until and including March 11, at one fare and a third on account of the Turners' masquerade.

SMALL PAY FOR A BIG JOB.

Boy Got a Postage Stamp For Two Hours' Work.

A local business man called a boot-black into his office yesterday morning and told the lad that he wanted the ashes carried out. The boy lugged the ash pan two blocks, emptied it and came back.

"Now I want you to run up to the Corn Exchange pump and get me a pail of water," the business man said.

The boy took the pail, filled it and returned staggering under the load.

"You did well, sonny," the business man remarked. "Here's a postage stamp; you can get two pennies for it at almost any store."

The boy refused the proffered pay in terse language but that part of it is better unpublished.

LOCAL TRAINMEN TO MOVE AWAY

The "De Kalb Crew" Will Probably Have to Live in Madison

The changes in time on the C. & N. W. will probably compel Conductor J. H. Dower, Engineer C. E. Sherwood and Baggageman Fred Hauser to remove from Janesville to Madison as their run now terminates at that town and makes them stay there all night. They will not move, however, until things are more settled.

The C. & N. W. depot is a pretty lively place about 6 o'clock in the morning. The paper train comes in at 6:30, the St. Paul vestibule at 6:35 while the Fond du Lac train leaves at 6:40 and the Beloit train at 7 o'clock.

Our patrons will find DeWitt's Little Early Risers a safe and reliable remedy for constipation, dyspepsia and liver complaints. C. D. Stevens.

A LIFE GROUND OUT BY THE CAR WHEELS

GUS SECOR, A TRAMP, FEARFULLY MANGLED SUNDAY.

Both Legs Crushed and He Died a Few Hours After the Accident—Tried to Jump on a Moving Train When He Slipped and Was Thrown Between the Cars.

Cruel car wheels crushed Gus Secor's legs and forced the splintered bones through the flesh Sunday morning, when he missed his footing in trying to catch on a moving freight train near the Miltimore stone quarry.

All but dead he lay at Dr. Palmer's hospital until noon and then death came.

Secor left Janesville just before 7 o'clock in the morning. He was walking along the Chicago & Northwestern track and had reached the "belt line switch" near the Hall Furniture Company's factory when a special freight train in charge of Engineer Sievert and Conductor McDonald overtook him. Secor attempted to "catch on" a box car, but as the train was going at a rapid rate he missed his footing and swung under the train. There was a crunching of bones and a tearing of flesh while a crimson flood trickled from between the ties. The engineer had looked around just in time to see Secor make the attempt that cost him his life. He whistled for brakes and stopped the train but it was too late. The sharp flanges had done their work and Secor's life blood was reddening the gravel road bed. The trainmen picked him up and lifting him tenderly into the caboose ran back to town.

Legs Fearfully Mangled.

A call for the fire patrol ambulance was sent in when the train reached the depot, and the wagon soon came. Secor was placed on the stretcher and taken to Dr. Palmer's hospital. It was plainly apparent that the wheels had done fearful work. His clothing was soaked with blood, while the bones of his legs were so crushed that his feet could be turned in any direction. When his trousers, overalls and underclothes were removed the surgeons saw a gruesome sight. The left leg had been twice run over. The first time, evidently, the wheels had passed over the instep, grinding bones and flesh to pulp. Doubtless the injured man was then swung about and the wheels passed over the leg again this time close up to the body, and in a slanting direction. The bones and flesh at this point were also ground up and the muscles and ligaments extending upward into the hip were torn and crushed. A piece of bone had been forced through the flesh and the end of it could be plainly seen, while the hole torn in the flesh was large enough to hold a wad of cotton large as a man's fist.

Death Came at Noon.

The right leg had been run over below the knee and was crushed in a sickening manner. The surgeons saw at once that the man was too severely injured to stand an operation so he was made as comfortable as possible on the ambulance stretcher. He was very weak from the loss of blood and could not stand it to be moved. No attempt was made to place him on a cot but he was left on the stretcher. While he was conscious for some time after the accident, no pulse could be felt and the poor fellow was alive but that was all. He was not able to speak much, but said he didn't want his legs taken off and evidently did not realize how badly he was hurt.

Secor was not a railroad man, although he stated at first that he was a brakeman and his clothing indicated that such was his calling. He said at one time that he came from Canada but another time he claimed to hail from Oshkosh. He said he came here in search of work. He was, in short, a tramp, but an intelligent looking man of about thirty-five years of age and fairly well dressed. He wore a pair of overalls over his trousers and had serviceable made under clothes. A Cardigan jacket was worn over his vest, but under his coat, and his mittens were of the pattern worn by railroad men. He gave very little information concerning himself except that he was a Baptist, that he came here from Canada and that he was looking for work. As the time passed he continued to grow weaker and at noon he ceased to breathe.

J. A. Richardson of Jefferson City, Mo., Chief Enrolling force 38th general assembly of Missouri, writes: I wish to testify to the merits of One Minute Cough Cure. When other so-called cures failed, I obtained almost instant relief and a speedy cure by the use of One Minute Cough Cure. C. D. Stevens.

Small Fire Put Out Quickly.

Incipient Blaze in a Second Ward House Was Easily Conquered

The fire department was called out at 10:12 Sunday morning to extinguish an incipient fire in the roof of a small frame house at 105 Glen street, owned by the John Cunningham estate and occupied by a family of Syrians. An over heated stove pipe set fire to the dry shingles of the roof. The fire was extinguished with chemicals, with but trifling loss. An alarm was turned in from box 26 and a large crowd of people congregated in the neighborhood, expecting to see a more serious fire.

Why Tunnel Rails Wear Out.

Steel rails are known to have a short life in tunnels and other places into which the fumes of locomotives are discharged. This appears to be due to the conversion of the sulphur in coal into sulphuric acid, and the subsequent chemical action of the acid upon the steel.

MAJOR COBB'S HOME LOOTED BY THIEVES

WATCH THAT WAS GREATLY PRIZED TAKEN.

Time-piece Was Presented To Him By His Comrades of the Thirteenth Regiment—B. H. Baldwin's House Also Visited But The Attempt Did Not Succeed—Burglary Skillfully Done.

Bold thieves turned the keys in the doors of S. C. Cobb's home with a pair of nippers, between 1 and 3 o'clock on Sunday morning, and after ransacking the house, took a silver watch that was presented to Major Cobb by his comrades of the Thirteenth regiment, and about six dollars in money after which they escaped, leaving no clue behind them. An unsuccessful attempt was also made to enter the house of B. H. Baldwin, but although the key was turned with the nippers, a bolt barred further progress and they gave it up.

The work was evidently done by experts, as the time chosen and the manner of proceeding indicated. Mr. and Mrs. Cobb retired about 11 o'clock and heard no noise during the night. The robbery was discovered at 7 o'clock when Mr. Cobb arose and found that his trousers were missing. Search revealed them lying on the floor in the parlor. Further search resulted in finding his coat on the hedge between the residence of Mrs. Cobb and that of B. H. Baldwin next door. Investigations at Mr. Baldwin's home brought out the fact that the key in their front door had also been turned and the marks of the nippers could be plainly seen. The lock was reinforced with a bolt, however, so they gave up the job and left. The matter was at once put in the hands of the police.

Worked Systematically.

The work at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Cobb was skillfully done. The robbers first unlocked the storm door with the nippers. The key in the lock of the door leading to the sitting room was then turned but a night lock barred further progress. The thieves then turned their attention to the parlor door and opened it easily. This gave them free access and their search began. Mr. Cobb's trousers hung near the head of the bed and the thieves took them into the parlor where the pockets were searched and the garment left lying on the floor. $6.30 in cash was taken beside the watch and chain that Mr. Cobb valued more than money on account of it having been presented to him by his comrades in the Thirteenth Wisconsin regiment of which Mr. Cobb was major. A gold watch belonging to Mrs. Cobb was overlooked although it was lying in plain sight. A pocket book in the inside pocket of Mr. Cobb's coat evidently caught their eye next, and the coat was taken to be searched at their leisure. Evidently they were satisfied with the night's work by this time and took their departure. Mr. Cobb found his coat and the book on the hedge, the pocket book having contained nothing but papers which were of no use to the thieves, although they took a silk handkerchief from the coat. Mr. Baldwin's house was then visited, but as above stated, they did not succeed in getting in.

BABY CONTEST OPEN BALLOTS IN DEMAND

THE CONTEST.

The polls for The Gazette contest for the babies is now open and the ballot will be found at the close of this article and will run until June 1, when the contest will close. Much interest is centered in The Gazette's offer to present the baby who gets the highest number of votes with $500 worth of stock in the Rock County Building Loan and Savings Association. It is a prize worth getting, for naturally it will be worth just half a thousand dollars. That will be a nice nest egg if kept at interest after maturity until the child becomes old enough to want to use it.

It will buy an education.
It will buy a building lot.
It will buy a piano and the lessons necessary to play upon it.

It is more than many people are able to save in a life time.

Of course all the mothers and fathers want it for their babe. How to get it is told below:

The polls opened this morning and will remain open until June 1. The baby that receives the most ballots in that time will receive a certificate calling for these five shares of stock. There are no dues to be paid, no assessments to be met, no installments to provide for. The stock stands for $500 in cash and on its maturity, which will be in nine and one-third years, the money will be ready. The prize is a handsome one—it is well worth winning and the conditions of the ballot are as follows:

From March 1 until June 1, a coupon will be printed in each issue of The Gazette.

Any one, anywhere in any state is entitled to vote as often as they buy a copy of The Janesville Gazette containing the above ballot.

Cut the ballot out (trimming on the dotted lines.) Write in the name of your candidate and enclose same in an envelope addressed to to Ballot Editor, Gazette, Janesville, Wis.

Only one person can be voted for on one ballot.

The baby who receives the largest number of votes will receive five shares of stock in the Rock County Building & Savings Association, cash value, $500 at maturity.

The contest will close June 1 at 9 p. m., and the stock will be delivered as soon as the count of votes is completed.

Any non-subscriber who will subscribe for The Gazette and pay in advance will be entitled to the following number of ballots:

New subscriber paid in advance one month, 100 votes.

New subscriber paid in advance two months, 250 votes.

New subscriber paid in advance six months, 900 votes.

New subscriber paid in advance one year, 2,000 votes.

Each new subscriber who pays in advance and casts the number of votes specified is also entitled, of course, to cut coupons from the paper from day to day and vote in the regular manner.

No person will be allowed extra votes for stopping his paper and having it sent to another name at the same address.

In every instance they must be bona fide new subscribers.

No person will be allowed to stop his paper on Monday and start it again Tuesday and claim the premium offered.

No votes can be transferred from one candidate to another after being registered in this office.

Candidates must not be more than three years of age March 1, 1895, and must live in Janesville.

THE BALLOT.

The Publishers of "The Janesville Gazette" will give 5 Shares of stock in the Rock County Building, Loan & Savings Association to the Baby who receives the largest number of ballots.

YES, THE GAZETTE IS ACTIVE.

"The Gazette is making a great clamor for republican supremacy this spring."—Recorder.

Yes, The Gazette is making a great clamor for republican supremacy. That is what we are here for. Supremacy is due the republicans and they are going to have it. But you notice the Recorder has nothing to say about democratic supremacy. That's out of the question. They know their case is hopeless. They want to fight the battle on the water works proposition. What does the Recorder want? Do they want the water works sued again, or haven't they heard that the case is now before the supreme court and is held open by stipulation while testimony, etc., is being taken?

Then they howl about the street commissionership. That howl is a farce and a dodge to avoid political issues. They know that under the charter street work must be done as it is now. The democrats will nominate some man for that office and then the Recorder will back track and support him. The present scheme may be a "curse to the city" as they say, but you'll see them advocating some man for that position just the same.

The old Grundy case is again raked up and charged to a republican street commissioner. The Recorder knows that it was bad management that cost the city $5,000 but they know it wasn't the street commissioner's fault. The bad management lay with a democratic city official and resulted in a rendering of a verdict against the city. The Recorder knows who that city official was but you don't hear them say anything about it.

CUCKOO PAPER'S SPIRIT BROKEN.

It wasn't very long ago that The Recorder raised their flag to the staff and heralded to the world the announcement they would live or die with that sentiment. "The only democratic daily in the First congressional district" floated from the mast head, and they spouted free trade nonsense profusely. They were not afraid to talk democracy then, but now it's different. The democratic jackass has had every square inch of his hide blistered and endless numbers of clubs have been broken over his back. As the result The Recorder has lowered its colors and now humbly begs "Please don't make us fight on party lines, let's make the water question the issue."

The water suit is not a political proceeding, it's a business matter, but "anything for an issue except democracy" is The Recorder's plan. Poor paper, ashamed of the principles of the party and afraid of the men who represent them. It is a sad sight.

The Recorder devoted half a column to frothing about local politics yesterday morning. The article indicates some mental derangement and makes it seem especially appropriate that the next item in this column should read: "Magnetic Nerve quiets the nerves, drives away bad dreams, and gives quiet rest and peaceful sleep."

The water works editors of the Recorder are kept busy these days. First the one in the water works office writes a column favoring that corporation and then the other fellow furnishes a screed "cussing" that company.

The Recorder cannot say too much that is good about Mayor Thoroughgood now, but if he is nominated they won't be able to find enough mud to throw at him. There isn't an honest hair in that paper's head when it comes to politics.

"The Recorder is not looking for the city's patronage any way."—Recorder.

Don't let that worry you; there won't be any thing forced upon you, Mr. Recorder, and it will be a long time before you can print "official city paper" over your mud column.

SEATS will be on sale at the opera house tonight for the public speaking contest tomorrow.

HOKEY POKEY PARTY MARCH 15

Many Plans Are Being Made by Janesville Amusement Lovers.

The Hokey Pokey club will give their next party on March 15 and many people are looking forward to that date with pleasurable anticipation. The club has made a name for itself and is one of the most popular of Janesville's organizations. All who received invitations to former parties are invited to the next one, and it is a foregone conclusion that the evening will be happily spent by all who attend. Smith's orchestra will furnish the music and the managers are not sparing pains to make the party the most enjoyable of the series.

Murder Will Out.

It may be possible to hide the wrong perpetrated by a murder for a time, but it's sure to come to the surface, and when it does, people will become excited and congregate at the place it was committed. This fact has been truly demonstrated by the Lowell Hardware Company for the last two weeks, and last Saturday "Bedlam" broke loose there. The customers took possession of the store and waited upon themselves. Such piles of tinware as were carted away was a fright. From 7 o'clock in the morning until 10 at night, it was a jam, and the stock showed the raid this morning. It will be but a few days until all this tinware will be gone, then you'll regret it, as you will have to go back to the high priced boys.

ANTI TOXINE SAVED THE BABE'S LIFE

O. V. HANTHORN'S CHILD WAS NEAR TO DEATH.

When the New Remedy Was Used the Improvement Became Noticeable at Once and the Child is Now Much Better—Other News From About Town.

Anti-toxine turned sorrow into joy and tears into smiles at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Orlando Hanthorn yesterday afternoon. Then two little daughters, aged three and five years, were dangerously ill with diphtheria. The disease took a turn for the worse yesterday and it was thought that the younger one would not live an hour. A consultation of physicians was held and after trying all available remedies it was seen that the little sufferer was growing worse. Her breathing was labored and her strength was fast giving out. Then they decided to use anti-toxine. The new remedy was injected in her right side and the effect was wonderful and the improvement began at once. Today the little girl is thought to be out of danger.

BETWEEN twenty-five and thirty young people surprised Miss Stella Jarvis at her home last Saturday evening, it being her eighteenth anniversary. EXAMINATION IS NOT FINISHED.
All the Witnesses Not Yet Heard in the Car Case.

The examination of the alleged Northwestern car burglars, which was commenced in the municipal court on Saturday, is still in progress, and will probably not conclude until tomorrow. The state's witnesses had not all been examined at 4 o'clock this afternoon.

The chain of evidence, however, would indicate that the defendants, Franklin, Flynn and Crowley, will be held for trial, unless some evidence contradictory to that already in, is presented. Among the witnesses here are A. J. Worthman and W. B. Stintners, of Baraboo; Bert Potter, Peter Muckie, C. Youngman, G. W. Astrom, G. A. Nye, W. McCormick, Paul Luck, E. J. Jener, and Peter Valey, the detective, all of Chicago; James Quinlan, of Maplewood, Frank Adams, of Madison, and Otto Marx and George Hoedike, of De Plaines.

The examination of C. D. and S. T. Johnson, of Beloit, who are charged with concealing the goods said to have been stolen by the alleged car thieves, was adjourned until March 14, when the case comes up at Beloit. District Attorney Jackson appeared for the state and William Smith and S. W. Menzie for the defendants. The defendants took a change of venue from Justice Booth to Justice Dow, on the grounds that Judge Booth was a material witness in the case.

The attorneys bagged for two hours over the question of the defendants furnishing new bonds, the defendants' lawyers claiming that the bonds filed with Justice Booth were all that were necessary, but the justice decided that new bonds in the sum of $2,000 were required.

Elizabeth Price was also taken to Beloit for a hearing, and her case was postponed for a few days.

A TRIP OVERSIGHT.
Dr. Griffin—I must say that the world is very ungrateful toward our profession. How seldom one sees a public memorial erected to a doctor.

The Boy Stopped.
Little Boy—While I was ridin' the pony he took the bit between his teeth and ran under a tree that had limbs bangin' way down low.

Mother—Did he stop then?

COURT SET ASIDE JOHN ALVIS' WILL

HIS DAUGHTER AT STOUGHTON
MADE A FIGHT.

She Contested the Instrument on the Ground That Her Father Was Mentally Incapacitated and the Claim Was Upheld—Enos C. Dickinson's Will Gives His Wife $12,000.

John Alvis' last will and testament did not stand when a contest was made and was set aside by Judge Sale. Alvis lived on Ringold street in the Third ward and died last summer leaving a will which bequeathed all his property to his widow. On the ground that her father made the will when mentally incapacitated, his daughter, Mrs. Ham of Stoughton, began proceedings at law to contest the validity of the instrument, and was successful, the court setting it aside and ordering the property apportioned among the surviving children.

The will of the late Enos Dickinson of Harmony, was filed for probate on Saturday. The estate is valued at $12,000, mostly in real estate, the entire property being left to the widow, who is named as the executrix.

PARISIAN NOTES.

Napoleonic Fever Likely to Extend to Gowns—Basques to Be Worn.

In Paris the cashmere shawl, so expensive and so highly valued as an article of wearing apparel in our grandmothers' day, is utilized as a piano cover. How are the mighty fallen!

There is a dispute in the French capital as to the preferable mode of lighting the dinner table. Conservative hostesses cling to the use of the suspended lamp or chandelier, while those fond of new fashions employ lamps or candelabra standing upon the table itself. In some houses a compromise is effected by the simultaneous use of both systems.

The latest fancy in serving black coffee is to place upon the edge of the cup, where the lips are to touch it, and over the handle small shields of ivory to prevent the mouth and fingers from being burned by the contact of the hot china.

It is said that the fashion of basques will return in all its vigor during the coming summer.

There is talk of a general revival of the eighteenth century style of dress. The present prevailing mode would scarcely

ABOUT BLUE ROSES.

Sirius and Arcturus are Said to Have Changed Color.

A well-known naturalist recently wrote: "We may have a yellow rose, but it is pretty well agreed that if we ever see a blue one it will be by a process of continuous variation and selection." By this process it is meant that if a blue rose is ever produced from a red variety, for instance, the change will not be a sudden one, a leap from one color to the other, but the result of a gradual progression through a series of steps leading regularly from red to blue, says the Youth's Companion.

In fact, it has been found that both plants and animals exhibit a tendency toward a definite succession of colors, and certain colors have been regarded as representing higher stages of evolution than others. The changes toward these "higher" colors are usually continuous and require a series of variations, while, on the other hand, instances of sudden reversion to "lower" colors are not uncommon.

Red is regarded as a higher color, in this sense, than yellow. The yellow primrose sometimes varies to red, but the change is never sudden or discontinuous, because it is a change in the direction of progression. But from red to yellow the change sometimes occurs by a jump, so to speak, because it is going backward. The same thing seems to apply in the case of birds. Red and green species of birds may vary to yellow, but the utmost efforts of breeders to produce red canaries from yellow ones have only resulted in an orange hue.

Gave the Wrong Prizes.

One day last week Patrick O'Finerty, an itinerant cigar vender, was arrested and brought before Commissioner Shields for selling his wares from a box that did not bear a revenue stamp. When the revenue officer had finished his testimony O'Finerty cross-examined him.

"Can you swear that those were cigars that I was selling?" he asked.

"Certainly," was the reply.

"What is a cigar?" asked O'Finerty.

"Why, tobacco, of course, done into a roll for smoking purposes."

"Well, then, you've made out a mighty weak case against me," exclaimed O'Finerty, "for the rolls that I was selling were made of cabbage leaves."

One of the alleged cigars was thereupon cut open and an expert who was called in to examine it declared that, while he was not sure that it was made of cabbage, he felt justified in swearing that it was not tobacco. O'Finerty had given away a small picture with each cigar. In discharging him from custody, Commissioner Shields said:

"You are a bright young fellow O'Finerty, but I think you are not consistent in throwing in a picture with each cigar. Corned beef would be more appropriate."—Tobacco.

The Winning Word.

Two suitors and which one should she choose?

"Be mine, fair maiden," said the first. "Wealth is at my command, a heart's devotion is at your's, your least wish shall be fulfilled, my life has but one object, and that to make you happy!"

The other suitor scowled.

"Choose me for your mate," he said.

"The barren wilds is where I make my home. Naught can I offer you but the trials and turmoils of an outlaw's life in far New Jersey, but—"

A malignant smile of triumph lit up his sinister face—"Three trolley lines on which the men strike not run past my humble cot!"

She put her hand in his, this fair young Brooklyn girl, and with him fled away to be an outcast's bride.—New York World.

Curiosities of the Bank of England.

The Bank of England has in its possession a bank note dated Dec. 19, 1699, for £555. It was printed from an engraved plate, but had blank spaces for the amount, date, number, and signatures. Across it are written memoranda showing that it was repaid in three installments. In appearance it is not altogether unlike the modern note. In the bank library is another note, for £25, which was not presented for 111 years. Another curiosity, said to be unique, is a note for no less than £1,000,000 dated 1782.

Walter Scott's Popularity.

As an indication at this late day of the relative popularity of the works of the Bard of Avon, the Westminster Gazette learns from the English publishers of Scott's novels that for 360 copies of "Ivanhoe," 280 copies of "Waverley" are sold, 275 copies of "Rob Roy," 265 of "Kenilworth," 255 of "Guy Rannering," 230 of "Old Mortality," 230 of "The Antiquary," 205 of "Quentin Durward," 190 of "Woodstock," and 160 of "Count Robert of Paris."

A Mysterious Light.

A strange light has been annoying residents between Melrose and Ashbourne, Pa., for two weeks past. The light, as described by persons who have seen and pursued it, has the appearance of a powerful flame. It apparently rises from a quarry, any time between 9 p. m. and 3 a. m. After developing until it is large enough to travel alone the ignis fatuus moves off.
